Jimmy Durkee doesn't approve budgets for other committees

Jimmy Durkee wouldn't even sit down at the table, with the Finance Committee, Monday night. What he had to say, he told the committee, would be brief.

Durkee is the chairman of the Wilmington Board of Health. He told the Finance Committee that he wasn't to be put into the position of approving other committee's budgets, unless he was directly concerned, and had direct knowledge.

Mr. Durkee, who is a pharmacist for a major Boston hospital, had little else to say. He was short, he was brief, and he was to the point.

Perhaps that was the key. The Finance Committee had been interviewing three different groups dealing with mental health, and every question from the members led to another, and longer explanation.

The members were wondering if there was an overlapping function. They could not find out - no names are used, in mental cases - only statistics. The statistics didn't tell the Finance Committee if Joe Blow from Wilmington was being treated in one institution or three.

MADELYN LOOKS UP: At Jimmy Durkee, in the Finance Committee, Monday evening in the public library. Madelyn of course is Madelyn McKie, former Planning Board member, and now a member of the Finance Committee.

The situation got to the point where the Chairman, Christian Bachman, hoped that the Town Hall could provide screening, information and leadership. Jimmy Miceli, chairman of the Board of Selectmen couldn't resist that direct appeal.

Speaking of the selectmen he said "We provide leadership every day." There was a roar of laughter.

Lowell Mental Health

The first person to be interviewed was Ann Kaplan of Lowell Mental Health Association.

In Lowell there is the Solomon Mental Health Center, which takes care of patients needing assistance. Ancillary to the Solomon Mental Health is the Lowell Mental Health Association, which provides help in an effort to assist former mental health patients.

There are 408 volunteers in the Mental Health Association Mrs. Kaplan said. They provide all types of services, and have 41 patients from Wilmington, all adults. Lowell Mental Health provides seminars, Spanish programs, therapy groups. There are films which are shown in the local high schools, including Wilmington. Some of the programs, she said, were for people who are "underserved and cannot afford private psychiatry."

There are no Federal funds. The money spent comes from the Merrimack Valley United Fund and the nineteen towns served. They were asking for 25 cents per capita, but would be satisfied with 15.

Share

Share, also with offices in Lowell, was represented by Nancy Roach and John Alden. In the hearing room was Lester White of Wilmington, former president, who has recently been honored by Share, and Scott Kent of Ledgewood Road, who has recently been elected a vice president.

Mention was also made of the work of Michael Cairo, selectman of Wilmington.

Share has several programs, the Finance Committee were told. It serves Lowell, Billerica, Chelmsford, Dracut, Tewksbury, Westford and Wilmington. The Wilmington share of the support is $866.67 a month, and the bill is sent, monthly, to Ernest Romano, Health Director of Wilmington.

There are Federal and Matching State funds.

In drug related problems there is Anabasis, a 24 hour residential community, family model, counseling, with educational and vocational programs, etc.

Cambios is a program for men and women, 18 to 35, with adjustment, emotional and/or drug and alcohol related problems. It is a 12 hour a day, six day a week program, located in North Chelmsford.

There is an out-patient clinic located at 191 Salem Street in Lowell, for persons 18 years old and up having drug and alcohol problems.

There is the Morningstar program for adolescents and their families, and provides counseling, individual, group or family. It is a Youth Community Program, and is located at 150 Middlesex Street in Lowell.

There is an emergency shelter program for young people, 13 to 18 years old, who are unable for some reason to live at home.

It is not a program which people can "crash." There has to be a referral from an agency. House rules have to be followed, and there is a two week limit, for a stay. It is located at 1100 Princeton Boulevard in North Chelmsford.

Another program is Oasis, for adolescents, 12 to 17 who have problems with drugs, school, the law, etc. At the present time it is limited to males.

It is a six month residential program geared to helping people change behaviours that have been getting them into trouble.

"In some ways we work with, and supplement the school staff" Alden told the Finance Committee.

Miss Roach told of a Counselor Program - one to one, as the phrase is, in which there is a nine hour committment to Wilmington High School. At the present time there is in process a beginning of a training program, to start in January, with High School teachers.

Share, she said, is getting a "slow build up" of referral cases from the Guidance Department of Wilmington High School. It receives no fees from the School Department.

There are no expansion plans, Mr. Alden said, except that Share has a study of alcohol problems - "we seek answers."

This led to the inevitable question about teen age drinking. Has lowering the drinking age to 18 increased the amount of drinking?

It had, Alden said. It has increased the number of kids who drink, and the number of kids who drink more, and some of them are now 15 and 16 instead of 18 and 19.

Family Counseling

This is a Wilmington program, established about half a dozen years ago by the Wilmington Community Fund at the request of the Clergymen of Wilmington. About two years ago it became a program supported by the town. Dr. Carol Golub is in charge.

She told the Finance Committee that the statistics are an average of 36 families treated each month. She averages 413 sessions with individuals, and 36 sessions with groups of three to six, in a year.

There has been a 38% increase over the figures of a year ago. She is still working with an adult population, but 11 per cent of the problems are about children, and 11 per cent are about adolescents.

Dr. Golub told the Finance Committee that she is working closely with Dr. Harold Homefield of the School Department in the 766 program.

The projected budget for the coming year shows a 20% increase, she said, but she is not asking for an increase at this time. She will continue on a $33,000 budget, $16,000 of which will come from the town.

Next year, Dr. Golub said, the insurance policies of Massachusetts will have a "mental health clause". The decisions will be up to the individuals. She believes the insurance participation will be 50%.

In a large part, she said, some of the costs can be absorbed from third party fees.

Most of those served by the Wilmington Family Counseling Service come to the service directly, but some are referred by the Solomon Mental Health Center in Lowell.

The Wilmington Family Counseling Service is under a direct contract from the Wilmington Board of Health. Dr. Golub said that they were providing 30% more service, on the same money, and that they feel that there should always be more money than may be needed so that they will not have to "turn people away."

NANCY ROACH AND JOHN ALDEN, from Share, talking to the Finance Committee. In back are Ann Kaplan of the Lowell Mental Health Association and Assistant Town Manager Peter Holmesblair.

Wilmington has refused B & M money for taxes

The Town of Wilmington has refused to accept an offer from the bankrupt Boston & Main Railroad of a partial payment, to settle claims for back taxes.

The Boston & Maine has been making money during the past three months, and has been making offers to cities and towns to settle up tax money owned. In some instances, according to the daily papers, this offer has been accepted.

An inquiry in Wilmington Town Hall brought out a cryptic "we didn't accept it" answer from one official. She would not discuss it further.

The rumor, unsubstantiated, is that the railroad made an offer to pay two thirds of the money owed, for a receipt in full.

The case is in the hands of the Town Counsel, who is negotiating with the railroad at this time.

Tammy DePiano is tragedy victim

Tammy DePiano, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DePiano was pronounced dead on arrival at Choate Memorial Hospital at 4:10 Monday afternoon, after she had been struck by a Budliner, on the Lowell branch tracks of the Boston & Maine.

The accident occured about 3:50 pm about 100 yards north of the Lake Street bridge. The Budliner was bound for Lowell.

Wilmington police said she was struck from behind. Tammy was walking alone at the time of the accident, and either did not hear the train or its whistle, or ignored it, police said.

She was the only child of Arthur and Elizabeth DePiano, and was a student at Shawsheen Valley Technical High School.

W.J. Parsons was the operator of the train, according to officials of the Boston & Maine.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at the Immaculate Conception church in Everett. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

To reconstruct part of Burlington Ave. bridge

The Burlington Avenue bridge, at Wilmington Square, is to have some work done this summer to make it safer. So says Bruce Campbell, Commissioner of the (Massachusetts) Department of Public Works.

Mr. Campbell visited Wilmington on Monday, to inspect the bridge, having been invited by Rep. Fred F. Cain. Mr. Cain was re-acting to a request from James Miceli, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. Mr. Miceli thinks the bridge is shaky. Mr. Cain agrees with Mr. Miceli. Mr. Campbell agrees with both.

It will be impossible at this time to put in a new bridge, Campbell said. A new bridge is some years in the future.

It will be possible to reconstruct parts of the present bridge, and to get rid of the "shaky" part. That will be done this summer, after an inspection by DPU engineers.

Meanwhile, because it takes six months to get planks of the size used in the Burlington Avenue bridge Mr. Campbell is having the Mass. DPU order some planks right away.

WILMINGTON GIRLS NAMED TO HONOR ROLL AT OUR LADY OF NAZARETH

Four Wilmington students have been named to the honor roll for the first quarter at Our Lady of Nazareth Academy in Wakefield.

Included are: Martha Stone, Debbie Banda, Toni Miller and Carol Bachman.

WILMINGTON LWV STATE PROGRAM PLANNING MEETING

The League of Women Voters of Wilmington will hold its annual State Program Planning meeting on December 11th at the home of Mrs. Sally Harding, 13 Chapman Avenue.

This is the meeting at which, as a League member, views may be explored as to what studies, on a state level would be suitable for the League to take up in 1975.

A man with a view

IT WAS TEWKSBURY 13, WILMINGTON 6: For the annual Thanksgiving Day football game, with over 8000 fans crowding the stands.

The best view was enjoyed by a photographer who takes movies of the Tewksbury games, on contract. Ordinarily movie photographers are in the stand shown in the picture, which can become wobbly when spectators become frenzied, during the game.

Jay Tighe will receive $29,000 next week

Jay Tighe, Wilmington builder, who has been having his sessions with the Wilmington Planning Board, learned Tuesday evening that he is to get a payment of $29,000 next week, from the cash bond he put up last summer. The bond was for $82,500.

The Planning Board is setting aside $13,000 of Tighe's money for eventual building, it hopes, of Washington Avenue extension, as far as Stone Street.

Washington Avenue extension can be built as the Planning Board hopes it will, to connect with Glen Acres estates, only if a town meeting so votes. The Wilmington Planning Board is hoping for a favorable vote in the Town Meeting in 1976.

If the Town Meeting refuses to vote for the street the money will have to be returned to Mr. Tighe.

Tighe's attorney, Joseph F. Courtney, Tuesday night gave the Planning Board a letter in which he declared that he had checked real estate records in the Massachusetts REgistry of Deeds, and found nothing to indicate that anyone other than the abuttors of Washington Avenue extension owned the land to the center of the right-of-way.

If the Planning Board required Tighe to build, Courtney said, then they would be placing Tighe in a double jeopardy - first of a suit in civil court from the abuttors, for trespassing, and secondly of a criminal complaint from the selectmen, because they have ordered that there be no connection between Washington Avenue and Glen Acres.

20 Cents Next Week

Effective next week the newsstand price of the Town Crier will be 20 cents a copy.

The increase is necessary because of the continuing increase in printing costs, and in other costs.

Effective immediately the subscription price is at a minimum of $6 for Wilmington and Tewksbury, and $7 elsewhere. These prices will go up one dollar on February first.

It is the Town Crier's intention to continue to improve its standard of excellence in reporting, printing and distribution.

Hanging heavy objects on your walls is a real art, for the heavier an object is, the more important it is that the object is stable, and the wall unharmed.

You must first find a stud nearest the location you want. Do this by tapping the wall lightly with a small hammer or the handle of a screwdriver, while holding the screwdriver by the blade.

When you tap over the stud, the sound will be distinctly solid. Then tap a finish nail into place, to be absolutely sure that you have located the stud.

To be absolutely sure you buy the right materials for the job - come to SWEENEY HOME COURTESY CENTER, 615 Main St., Wilmington, 658-3331. Our experienced staff will help you make the selections from our complete stock of Weldwood, Royalcote, Barclay, Georgia Pacific and Abitibi paneling, Armstrong and Nu-Wood ceilings, Pella and Wen-Pine windows and doors, Rockwell power tools, Cristal ceramic tile and Ly-Ka-Bric and Ly-Ka-Stone hand crafted wall facings. Hours: Daily 8 am to 5 pm.

Bits & Pieces

Post office

For those persons who have had a few words, gracious or otherwise, about the parking at Wilmington Post Office, there is a gleam of hope.

The word, very unofficial, is that the Postal Service is considering converting some of the green grass in back of the Wilmington Post Office into a parking lot for postal employees.

At the last count there is one employee for every parking space in the Post Office parking area. At least, at seven a.m. on a recent day, before any patrons had arrived, every parking space but one was occupied - and the Postmaster had not yet arrived.

Patient

Remember Neil Byam? The Town Crier, a few years ago, had pictures of Neil in connection with his weight lifting abilities.

Neil is in Room 922 (ninth floor, of course) of the Baker Memorial Hospital (Mass. General). He has been there since July 9th. Six operations, etc.

If Neil were to receive some visitors he wouldn't growl about it.

Also some cards would be appreciated from those who are too tied up to take time for a visit.

Plate S 12

Fred F. Cain is a well known gent in Wilmington. Started a garage, many years ago, with a fellow named Larry Gildart, and for years has been operating his own garage, agency for one of the Big Three, many times a prize winner, and a State Rep. of more than a little note.

Years ago, before it was sort of fashionable, Fred got the number 12 for his auto plates, as an automobile dealer, and he has stuck to that number ever since. It is more than just a fetish with Fred, it's a way of life. He has number R12 for the repair truck for the garage, and number 12 for one of the family cars, etc. etc.

And when, a few years ago, he was elected to the Legislature and it came time to issue those special plates given to Legislators, Fred looked up the person with number 12, and arranged a swap. Ever since REP 12 has been Fred Cain's.

Monday the State Commissioner of the Department of Public Works came out to look at the Burlington Avenue Bridge. The plate was State 12.

He had already known about it. In fact, he added, last year it wasn't State 12, it was S 12.

And who has S 12 now?

Fred F. Cain.

Calendar boy

Alan Eddy, formerly of Woburn Street, Wilmington, now of Reading and an employee of Raffi & Swanson on Eames Street is getting to be a "regular" when it comes to calendars.

He exhibited some of his paintings last summer, at the Wilmington Women's Club Art Show on Wilmington Common. One of the prize winners was entitled Monhegan Island.

The painting has been chosen, by American Mutual of Wakefield, for its 1975 calendar. Announcement is to be made tomorrow noon, at the Town Lyne House on Route 1, at a luncheon for participating artists.

An "Artisan's Potpourri" High School enrichment

LOOKING OVER THE POSTERS: Wilmington's new high school principal George Eisenberg, and a group of the youngsters in the Artisan's Potpourri program.

A new enrichment program, for youngsters of both sexes, starts in the latter part of January, under a funding program of the Federal government. It is to be called "Artist's Potpourri," and right now there are some gaily colored announcements to be read, in parts of Wilmington High School.

It will be based in the Home Economics classes, and will be open to students of both sexes in grades nine to 12.

The purpose of the program is to acquaint students with new ideas and skills in home crafts and repairs, as well as a productive use of free time. Individually selected crafts, furniture refinishing, home repairs and decorating, short order cooking, machine repairs, creative stitchery, sewing machine crafts, ecology and recycling, designing and building from something old, and other subjects are to be offered.

Students will be able to elect a workshop section which meets twice a week in place of two schedules of study periods, or else before school. For satisfactory completion of projects, and regular attendance a student will receive one credit.

Sign up day will be next Monday and Tuesday, in the cafeteria during the lunch period. Interested persons may get more information from Mrs. Mildred Bean, who is the acting head of the Home Economics Department.

TES announces recycling dates

The Tewksbury Environmental Conference will hold its monthly recycling drive Saturday and Sun. December 7 and 8 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the parking lot between the Tewksbury fire station and the library.

Newspapers and magazines should be separated and bundled (bags preferred). Rinse, remove paper and ends of cans then flatten; bottles rinsed, labels and all metal removed; and rags washed and put in bags.

TEC urges everyone to take a few minutes each day to prepare items for recycling to prevent useless waste.

Tambone project

Majority of apartments will be subsidized

Fifty per cent of the apartments to be made available if the proposed Tambone apartment complex is constructed near concord Street will be for persons of moderate income. So the Planning Board was told Tuesday evening by representatives of the Tambone Corporation, which proposes to erect the apartments under the auspices of Chapter 774 of the Acts of 1969.

Another quarter of the apartments will be made available to persons of low income, while the remaining quarter will be on "the market" at regular prices.

There will be no segregation of apartments, depending on the subsidies.

Chapter 774, the Planning Board was reminded, is the so-called "snob zoning law" which plans to make housing available to persons of moderate and low income all over the Commonwealth.

Joe Wishcamper, one of the Tambone officials at the meeting told the Planning Board that there are three tests, for any community, with relation to the so-called snob zoning law.

If any community meets the requirement of one of those tests it is deemed to have met the requirements of Chapter 774. Otherwise the community can become the site for housing under the 774 provisions.

1. The number of housing units available to low and moderate income housing. If the number is less than 10% as described in the law, then the community fails.

Wilmington has about 4000 housing units. Therefore Wilmington should have 400 units available to people of low or moderate income.

2. The Land Area test. In any community 1½% or more of the total area has to be devoted to low and moderate income housing. Such is not the case in Wilmington.

3. It may be recognized that a community is making an effort to establish such low and moderate income housing, in which case the community can be excused if .3% of the land area, in any year, is being devoted to such low and moderate income housing construction.

If none of these conditions exists, then a properly prepared developer can submit plans to the Board of Appeals in such a community, and the Board of Appeals has the power to issue a Comprehensive Permit. The Board of Appeals can (1) Grant (2) Deny in Parts, with reasons or (3) Deny totally, with reasons.

There is a State Board of Appeals, and in any case in which a local board of appeals denies, or grants with conditions, the appeal may be taken to the State Board of Appeals.

"So far there have been 30 appeals to the State Board. In 29 of those the decision was in favor of the developer. In the one remaining case the case was sent back to the community for further investigation.

"Once an appeal goes to the State Board of Appeals, then the community loses its bargaining power" Wishcamper said.

Joseph F. Courtney, the attorney for Tambone, told the Board of Appeals that it is his intention to go to each of the town boards and explain the situation, in a spirit of cooperation. He wants the various boards to be able to participate in the process.

Courtney said that the 6% rental profit, which is all that is allowed, makes the rental of the apartments very advantageous to the tenants, and the savings in the financing gets passed on to the tenants.

The Massachusetts Home Financing Agency, which finances such projects, is only five years old, Courtney said. So far it has financed 30,000 such living units, and there are another 50,000 under construction. The program is being very well received.

"There are communities which are inviting the developers to come back and build more housing" Courtney told the Board. He considered the proposed program for Wilmington to be an "asset for the town."

The architectural firm is Larkin, Grassman and Prager, and Mr. Prager was present, with preliminary drawings. He was ready to discuss the project in some detail.

Of the apartments for the elderly, he said, 70 will be one bedroom, and 18 will have two bedrooms.

Ten per cent of the apartments will be constructed to assist persons crippled by such things as arthritis. The idea is to attempt to keep such persons independent and mobile, if possible.

Research has shown, Prager said, that the elderly like to be by themselves, and yet in a position where they can watch children.

Of the other apartments, 94 will have one bedroom, 48 will have two, 34 will have three and 12 will have four.

There will be an average of 1½ parking spaces for cars, for each apartment.

There will be a recreation building, with 4,000 square feet.

According to Anthony Tambone Jr., a one bedroom apartment of the "market" (no subsidy) class will rent for about $250 a month.

A moderate income apartment of the same type will rent for about $160 a month. The term has to be defined, and the way that Tambone explained things, after certain deductions the income averaged about $9000 a year.

A low income apartment of the same type would be rented about $50 or $60 a month. This definition is also a "function" of income plus deductions, and could be as low, adjusted, as $2500 or $300 a year.

The distribution of the apartments, to tenants, the Planning Board was told, will be "random." There will be no segregation of tenants by income.

Wilmington's Harnden Tavern, taken by eminent domain by the town eighteen months ago, is to be the subject of a television program tomorrow evening.

It will appear in a program entitled Channel 5 At Large, and is scheduled for 7:30 pm Friday.

Walter Kohler, chairman of the Wilmington Historical Commission has stated that the commission is now in a position to accept suitable gifts for the tavern, in an historical concept.

FASCINATED AUDIENCE: At the discussion of the proposed Tambone apartments, in the Planning Board, Tuesday night. Mrs. McKie was attending as one of three ladies from the League of Women Voters. In the foreground, (with mustach) is Joe Wishcamper, one of the Tambone officials.

Christmas Decorations for Wilmington.

PAULINE O'BRIEN: Chairman of the Wilmington Beautification Committee, at the Finance Committee meeting. With her is Jimmy Micali, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and also may be seen the Assistant Town Manager, who attends all Finance Committee meetings.

There will be Christmas decorations for Wilmington this year. The Finance Committee, Monday night approved a $3,000 transfer to the Beautification Committee for this purpose.

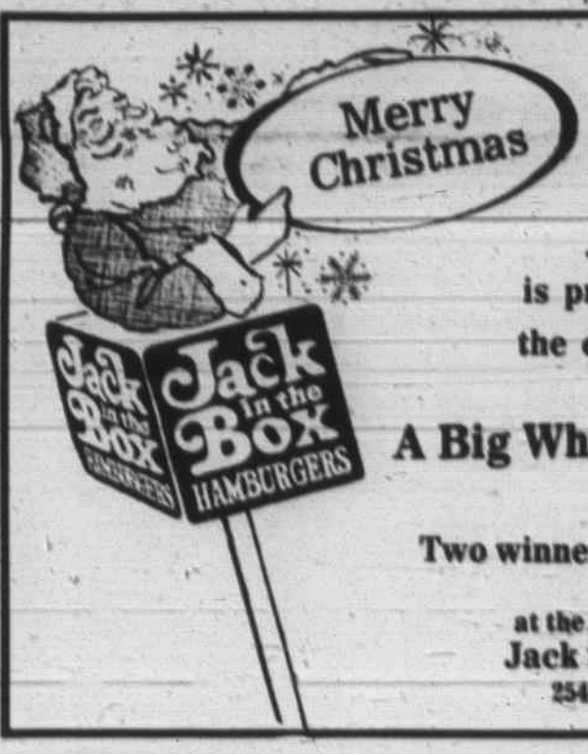

A minimum of electricity will be used was the message conveyed to the Finance Committee, with a minimum exposure of electric light bulbs for vandals to steal.

Garlands will be the decoration at Wilmington Square, and on the Common at the Barrows Christmas tree. In the square there will be garlands from each of the four corners to the center, and a Christmas Tree. The exact site of the tree was not stated.

Tpe Barrows Christmas Tree on the Common will be decorated with 500 foot silver and red garland, but there will be no Christmas lights. In previous years the light blubs were stolen almost as fast as they were replaced.

On Rotary Park, in front of the Police Station there will be a Santa in a sleigh, visible from both Middlesex Avenue and Church Street. The display will be reinforced with a steel frame, and there will be lights. Arrangements have already been made with Reading Municipal Light, the Finance Committee was told.

At the Deming Way Housing Project there will be two huge candles, with lighting. This too will be a Beautification Committee project.

Krasznekewicz heads Student Service Center

Krasznekewicz, a senior at Austin Prep in Reading, is a representative to the State Student Advisory Council. He is also the chairman of the North Andover Regional Advisory Council, which includes, in this area, Wilmington, Tewksbury and Billerica.

He will be in charge until the end of June, when he graduates from Austin Prep. John has his eyes on Harvard, and is also looking hard at the Wilmington School Committee. He may be a candidate in a couple of years.

The Student Service Center, a federally funded project, within the State Department of Education, is organized, staffed and run by students from the schools of Massachusetts. It was begun in July 1971 as a means of more directly involving the youth of the Commonwealth in the educational process.

The center provides students, as well as teachers, administrators, and parents, with informational resources they need to assume a responsible role in decision making in the educational process of their local school system. In many instances, this information is not available elsewhere. As youth begins to take on a greater role in change and improvement both in their schools and on a statewide level, they find an increasing need for researching a broad area of topics in the field of education.

The Student Service Center is a "clearing house" for information and ideas to help as yough become an integral part of the policy-making as well as the learning end of their education. It is a successful means of developing more meaningful substaantive channels of communication between administrators and students, and can help in achieving a more cooperative attitude between the two.

The philosophy behind the establishment of the Center has been that students can offer valuable insight into many problems that high schools face today, and that students, working with teachers and administrators in their school, can help in designing effective, practical solutions. Many of the staff members are representatives to the Student Advisory Council, both Regional and State.

The Council, which is made up of one student elected from every high school across the state, was established by a law passed in 1971. The Council is broken down into 11 regions, which consist of approximately 35 public and private high schools. From these regional councils are chosen four members to serve on the State Student Advisory Council. From the latter group, one student is elected to serve as chairman, and most importantly, to be given full voting privileges as a member of the State Board of Education. This year's member is Neal Yanofsky, a senior at Newton South High School.

The dedication and work of the 1973-74 Council has seen another "first" realized a bill which clarifies the rights and responsibilities of high school students.

This is the first time in the country that students have been guaranteed their constitutional rights on a statewide basis: the right of freedom of speech and press, to dress as they choose, to have an established code of rules to follow as opposed to arbitrary rules, the right of pregnant females to remain in school.

LOCAL STUDENTS HONORED AT AUSTIN

Louis Cappucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cappucci of Tewksbury and John Krasznekewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krasznekewicz of Wilmington have recently been inducted into the Austin Preparatory School chapter of the National Honor Society.

In all, 13 new members were inducted at ceremonies held at the school.

TMHS parents told important dates

Tewksbury Memorial High School Principal William J. DeGregorio has advised parents of some dates that may be important to them in the future. His statement to parents follows:

"The School Committee at its November 13th meeting voted to extend the Christmas vacation by two days, January 2nd and January 3rd. School will reopen on Monday, January 6, 1975.

"The last day of the school year for students will be June 27th. This includes five days projected for inclement weather. If these five days are not used, the last day of the school year for students will be adjusted proportionately. Graduation has been scheduled for June 14th...

"Our next workshop day will be December 17th. The Junior class will attend school from 7:30 until 12. December 20th will be a full day of classes prior to the Christmas vacation.

"If at any time you have any questions whatsoever concerning Tewksbury Memorial High School, please feel free to contact me. Groups of parents are welcome to meet with me at any convenient time. Our main objective is to serve you as well as provide a good education for your students."

Librarian has new assistant

The newest employe at Tewksbury's Patten Public Library is Mrs. Joyce Danis, who joined the staff in mid-November as assistant librarian. Mrs. Danis replaces former assistant librarian Gladys Collins who retired in September, according to Elisabeth Desmarais, librarian.

Mrs. Danis is a 1973 graduate of Boston University, where she majored in elementary education. She is currently attending Simmons College, in Boston, where she is studying for a master's degree in Library Science.

She was formerly employed by the Turner Free Library in Randolph, where she worked as an assistant in the children's department.

Among her other duties at the Patten Public Library, Mrs. Danis will assume responsibility for the pre-school story-book programs currently held on Thursday and Friday mornings. During the month of December, Mrs. Danis will help the children construct Christmas decorations.

She is also planning a more vigorous series of Saturday morning story hour programs for children in grades kindergarten through third; these programs will begin in January.

Murder victim's family in unusual court case

The parents of a teenager murdered five years ago are attempting to take precedent setting legal action under a state law that compensates victims of violent crimes committed in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. McCabe were slated to appear in Lowell District Court Thursday, December 5, to ask the court to allow them to file an application for compensation.

Their son John was murdered September 26 or 27, 1969, and his body was found beside railroad tracks in Tewksbury. The case remains unsolved, although police are questioning a suspect in connection with the case.

Under Chapter 258A of the General Laws, passed in 1968, victims of violent crimes are entitled to up to $10,000 in compensation from the state.

The McCabe's case is precedent setting for several reasons.

For one, Chapter 258A requires persons apply within 90 days of a violent crime to be eligible for compensation as victims. The McCabes, unaware of the law until recently, are applying now, five years past the deadline. If the court allows them to apply, that will establish a legal precedent itself, according to one of their attornies, Eugene Nigro.

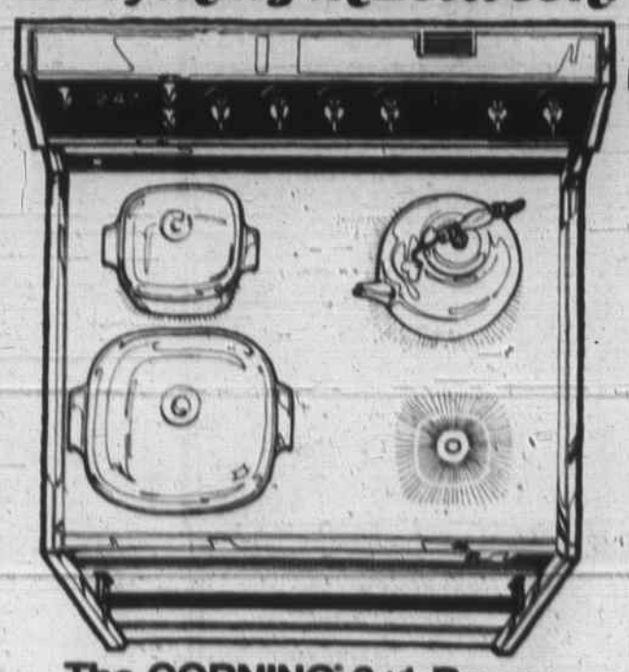

For another, Chapter 258A isn't clear whether parents are entitled to damages if their child is a victim of a violent crime, Nigro says.

A final consideration is what compensation the courts might consider parents might be due if their child dies suddenly as a victim of a violent crime, particularly if they didn't incur major medical expenses as a result.

Slow Cooker, Fast Cooker and Everything in Between!

The CORNING 3+1 Range

The cooks of America are discovering the benefits of long, slow cooking. The less expensive cuts of meat become works of culinary art in hearty soups, stews and ragouts.

How? The thermostats under 3 of the smooth surface units keep the temperature where you set it. You can melt butter on LO and leave it without a burn or scorch worry. Turn the dial up a notch or two and a simmer stays a simmer ... perfect for long, slow cooking. Turn it up again and you've got all the heat you need for frying, sautéing or boiling.

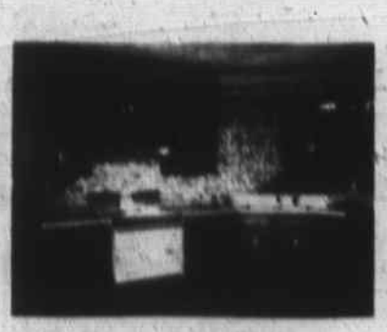

With the 3 Temp-Assure Units, any flat pan works best. And remember, CORNING includes 5 permanently flat pans with every 3 + 1 appliance.

The fourth surface heating unit works like a conventional electric element to let you use even your non-flat pans. Great for cooking that doesn't require all that precision.

No other range can give you the temperature you need and the pot and pan versatility you want.

Come see the 3 + 1 ranges. All models have pyrolytic self cleaning ovens and other CORNING features that will help you cook better and work less.

They are William A. Kendall, who joined the bank on November 25th and James K. Rice who has served as Installment Loan Officer since he became associated with the institution in April 1972.

Kendall comes to Reading Savings from the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank where he served as branch manager since 1968. He previously was associated for eight years with the Melrose-Wakefield Trust Company during which time he was advanced to Assistant Vice-President. His military background includes service with the United States Army Security Agency from 1957 to 1960.

A graduate of Quincy High School (1953) he has successfully completed courses with the American Institute of Banking, the Savings Bank Life insurance Council Interviewer Course, the School for Supervisory Personnel conducted by the Savings Bank Association of Massachusetts and has received an ABA degree in Banking and Finance from Suffolk University in June of this year.

James K. Rice

Active in civic affairs, Kendall has served as past Treasurer of the Wakefield Chapter, American Red Cross, and is a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the American Institute of Banking, Boston chapter. A Mason, he is an active member of the Golden Rule Lodge, AF & AM, Wakefield, and the First Parish Congregational Church of that community.

James K. Rice was previously employed by the Consumers Savings Bank in Worcester where he supervised and directed the operations of their Installment Credit department. Prior to this he was associated for approximately 12 years with the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Company.

Since joining Reading Savings, Rice has been primarily concerned with streamlining and implementing installment loan procedures and expanding the bank's service to customers in the area of personal and home improvement loans and auto financing. RECS SPLIT RECENT OUTINGS

The Wilmington Recs whipped Stoneham II 4 - 2 on Thanksgiving Eve and then lost a tough 1 - 0 decision to Chelmsford last Saturday night in their two most recent outings. Coach Backman's sextet is now sporting an overall record of 4-7-1 and in MVGHL competition the girls are in fourth place with a 2-5-1 slate.

In their third meeting of the season with the Spartans, the Recs jumped out to a 1 - 0 first period lead when defense person Janet Zambernardi scored her initial goal of the season at 6:29. Three more goals in the middle frame gave the Recs a commanding 4 - 0 lead. Joan Welch tallied twice and Kim Wandell once. Sharon Landry picked up a pair of assists to complete the scoring. Stoneham spoiled goalie Maureen Materese's shut out bid with a goal late in the stanza.

Saturday night the Recs went up against the co-leading Red Wings in a pivotal MVGHL teencounter. After a scoreless opening frame, Chelmsford got the eventual game winner on a breakaway as Marcy Pannabecker beat goalie Cathy Bristol to the far corner. The Recs had 15 shots on the Red Wings netminders, but could not dent the strings. Miss Bristol stopped 14 Chelmsford stops in another fine outing as the junior netminder has reduced her goals against average to 2.17.

Tonight the Recs square off against North Reading in a six o'clock tilt at the Billerica Forum. In their only other meeting of the season back on October 18th the Hornets whitewashed the Recs by a 2 - 0 count. The girls move back into league play Saturday night when they travel to Nashua to battle the Shawsheen Squaws. Face-off is listed for 5:00 pm at the Gardens.

ASSISTANT HOCKEY COACH NAMED AT WHS

Thomas J. Crowley, 30, of Melrose, has been named assistant varsity hockey coach at Wilmington High School.

Mr. Crowley played for the 1962 Middlesex League, State and New England champions at Melrose High School. He was a member of the NCAA Championship Michigan State University team during 1967-69. He played in the New England League with the Braintree Hawkes and in 1972-74 was with the Toronto Maple Leafs of N.H.L. as a scout.

Wildcats gobbled up by Aylward's Redmen

Former W.H.S. Coach Bob Aylward made his return to the Wilmington High School football field, this time at the helm of Turkey Day arch rival Tewksbury, only to leave with a convincing 13 - 6 win over the Wildcats.

Senior halfback Rick Mackey kept up his torrid scoring pace as he knotted both Redmen scores, while rushing for a total of 83 yards on the day.

The Redmen struck first early in the contest as a 46 yard run by Bill McCann set up the Tewksbury score. Five plays after the third and 13 run, Mackey waltzed one yard up the middle for the TD. Scott Audette added the point after, and the Redmen held a 7 - 0 lead after 5:16 of the first quarter.

The Wilmington gridders couldn't move on their next set of downs, punted, and then watched McCann run 40 yards and bring Aylward's crew to the Wilmington 27 yard line. Audette tried his kicking foot on fourth and four-teen, but the 37 yard field goal attempt fell wide and short.

Other than the fact that each team punted a couple of times and John Breen picked off a Carl Butler half-back option pass in the remainder of the first half, neither squad could post any points, and Wilmington trailed at halftime, 7 - 0.

Steve Flagg put the Redmen back in business in the third stanza when he recovered a Mark Esposito fumble two plays after the kickoff. Wilmington was penalized five yards, and runs by Mackey and McCann brought the visitors to the Wildcat 11 yard line.

Mackey then capped off the 26 yard drive with an excellent run of eleven yards up the middle. The PAT kick by Audette was wide, and the Redmen lead was quickly 13 - 0.

The local gridders finally put six points up on the board with just three seconds left in the third stanza. The Wildcats took a Tewksbury punt on the Redmen 46 yard line and then proceeded to march to paydirt on six plays. After Bob Aprile was nailed for a three yard loss, Stewart hit Jack Stygles with a twelve yard pass, and on third down and one, Aprile went up the middle for five yards and a first down. Two more runs, and the pigskin was now situated on the 29 yard line of Tewksbury. Stewart then unloaded a third and twelve pass to noone other than senior Co-Captain Jack Stygles standing wide open in the endzone. Mark Esposito was stopped cold on the one yard line on the conversion run, and the Redmen lead was now cut to 13 - 6.

The Wilmington defense stiffened in the final quarter of play, and Jack Stygles, Dana Mullarky, Frank DePiano, and Dave Churchill all had a hand in on burying Scott Audette who had to swallow a bad snap on a punt attempt by Tewksbury. The Wildcats took over on the Redmen 21 yard line, and then ran down to the four yard line, where on fourth and goal, Mark Stephens, John Limoli and Chuck Minard saved the game for Aylward and his troops by sacking Stewart. Tewksbury took over on downs on their own six yard line, and then chewed up the remaining 5:03 to preserve the win.

The Wildcats' slate fell to 3-3-3, while the Tewksbury record jumped to 4-4-1.

Wakefield scored again to end the period. An unassisted goal by Dennis Mown in the second period tied it up again. Wakefield scored their final goal to end the period.

Mite B (6-4-1): Although outshooting the opponent by a 15 - 8 margin the Mite B's lost a squeaker to Medford by a score of 2 - 1.

Late in the first period Greg Rogers abaisted by Kenny Richter put the B's out in front 1 - 0. Medford followed in the second frame to tie the score.

Squirt A (8-3-0): Coaches MacDonald and Newark's boys came up short the past two games.

In last week's game the Squirts dropped a close game to Billerica, 2 - 1. Wilmington opened in the first period when Jeff Stouffer put one in assisted by George Boudreau. Billerica came back in the second for two unanswered goals.

In this week's contest the Squirt's lost to undefeated South Boston by a score of 5 - 4. In a very close, hard checking game South Boston scored first, but Wilmington came right back to tie when Jimmy Conti picked up an unassisted goal. Just a minute later Ted Moran put Wilmington out in front just to have South Boston come right back.

With less than a minute left Darryl MacDonald lit the lamp assisted by Frankie Newark. South Boston tied it again in the second period only to have George Boudreau put Wilmington back out front for the last time assisted by Kevin Smith.

South Boston scored once more in the second game and the game winner in the third.

Wilmington out shot South Boston 25 to 20.

The next game will be played Sunday, December 8 at 8:10 am against Cambridge at the Wilmington Youth Ice Arena.

Wilmington scored four goals in the first period; five in the second and seven in the third. Winthrom came within three goals on three occasions, 4 - 1, 6 - 3 and 8 - 5, but the game was never really in doubt. The B I's shots were quick and always on target as they put in 16 out of 33 shots.

The next two games will be against Haverhill (8-1-1) and Chelmsford (9-0-1) and they should provide the competition the team has been waiting for.

Squirt B II (Beef Stew): The B II's topped Medford 13-2 in a tight defensive game. Scorers for the B II's were Mark Johnson (two) and Sten Larson; assists on the scores went to Dicey (two), Cahill and MacLellan.

Medford led 2 - 0 after five minutes of play, but were unable to score again. The defensive corps of Dicey, Otson, Cahill, Sullivan and hard-hitting Sughrue kept Medford out of scoring range after the first disorderly five minutes. Meanwhile the B II's scored their winning goals.

Rick Carbone and Peter Gentile shared the goalie duties for the II's in a fine defensive manner.

Pee Wee A: Last week the A's fell to Billerica 4 - 1. The only Wilmington goal was off the stick of Jim Burns, unassisted, to give the locals a 1 - 0 lead. Billerica kept the home town gunners at bay, as they neeted four unanswered goals.

On Saturday the A's met a powerful South Boston club in a well matched contest. Southie scored in the first frame to lead.

Wilmington returned in the second perild as Squeaky Greenberg faked the Southie goalie on a super setup by Burns.

In the third period both clubs traded goals for the 2 - 2 tie. Again it was Greenberg with the final goal on a sharp passing play from Burns and Don Foley.

Sunday the A's returned to Tyngsboro and shut out South New Hampshire, 8 - 0. Lamp lighters were Tim McCann (two), Pat Palmer, Pete Gunn, Mike Beatrice, Dave LaLiberte, Ed Giroux and Dennis Foley.

Jim Burns again was outstanding as he picked up assists on the first four goals!! Matt DePasquale and Rush Daley combined in the nets for the shutout.

Pee Wee B II: The Wilmington Pee Wee B II's defeated North Reading last Saturday 8 - 2 in a fast moving game with plenty of scoring for the town team.

The first period goal by Mike Sullivan assisted by Keith MacDonald started the ball rolling. North Reading scored their only two goals in the second period. Wilmington came back with three tallies, all unassisted by Keith MacDonald, Mike Moran and Scott Richards putting Wilmington ahead 4 - 2.

Four more goals in the last period put the game away for Wilmington. Scorers were Kevin MacDonald assisted by Jamie Sheppard, Scott Richards assisted by Keith Young, Sean O'Donoghue assisted by Kevin MacDonald, and the last goal scored made it a hat trick for Scott Richards assisted by Terry Desmond.

Good defensive work led by Scott Sullivan and Stevie Scanlon helped to keep down the opponent's scoring.

Wilmington had 32 shots on net while North Reading had 15. Pee Wee B II's record is now 6-5-0.

Bantam A (10-0-1): Monday December 2, the Bantam A's defeated Danvers by a score of 7 - 2.

The second frame was played even 15 shots and two goals for each team. Lamp-lighters were Mike Carlin who scored his second goal which turned out to be the game winner and Bill Blaisdell who closed out the scoring for the period with assists going to Bill Blaisdell, Tom Gracia and Paul Godfrey.

The third stanze Wilmington was out shot 10 - 7, but out scored Danvers 3 - 0, goals were by Ray Robson, Paul McMahon and Bill Balisdell with his second tally of the night. Assists went to Mike Carlin (two), Brian Tighe, Gregg Moulton, Tom Gracia and Tom Bavota. The goal tending tandem of Joe Iozzo and George Ravagni turned away 28 shots in a solid game in net.

The next game will be against Medford Monday evening December 9th beginning at 8:20.

Pee Wee B I: Played against Reading on December 3rd and the game ended in a 1 - 1 tie leaving the B I's record at 6-3-3.

Wilmington's goal was pocketed by Frank DeVita with the assistance of Mark Potenza and Dave Kidd.

Excellent goal tending by Wayne Volozo kept the opponents score at a minimum. Wilmington had 19 shots on goal to Reading's 26.

The next game will be played on December 10th at the Wilmington Youth Ice Arena with South Boston providing the opposition.

CAR CORNER

by Bob Bagnulo and Joe Casey

A fire extinguisher is an essential emergency accessory for your car. A lighted cigarette, for example, can sometimes attually cause the complete burning of the insides of a car.

Water is often not enough to stop the smoldering that can cause the damage. A fire extinguisher is equipped with the proper chemicals to do the job.

Remember that an extinguisher, too, needs servicing from time to time to keep it in working order.

Remember that the skilled mechanics at WILMINGTON FORD, 275 Main St., Rt. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800 will keep your car in perfect working order. We also feature a wide inventory of beautiful new Fords; why not give one to someone special this Christmas? Open: 9-10 Mon-Fri; 8-6 Sat; service, 7:30-9 Mon-Fri; 7:30-5 Sat.

Helpful hint

In winter weather have at least one blanket in the car at all times.

New Books at the Wilmington Library

Ah-One-Ah-Two! Life With My Musical Family by Lawrence Welk with Bernice McGeehan. This is the story of the people who make up the musical family. Beginning with the cancellation of Welk's television show and his triumphant return, the music man shares amusing anecdotes and a look behind the scenes.

The Male Machine by Marc Feigen Fasteau. Critically analyzing the masculine stereotype which defines men as aggressive, dominant and unemotional, the author demonstrates its destructive effects on society and personal growth.

Factory Store Guide to All New England by A. Miser and A. Pennypincher. Your answer to low cost Christmas gifts! This little guidebook lists 167 factory store outlets in New England which sell everything from footwear to giftware. Includes addresses, phone numbers and hours open.

The Everybody-Bring-a-Dish Cookbook by Theodore Zavin. For those who enjoy international cuisine, this book presents menus and recipes from a variety of countrys and ways to plan an international eat-in with a group of friends.

Guilty Pleasures by Donald Barthelme. The Cosmo Girl, Playboy, and the Watergate crowd are among the targets in this book which is filled with satires, parodies, and fables on modern day social and political life.

Dog Soldiers by Robert Stone. A shocking story about a civilian serving in Vietnam who concocts a scheme to ship home a load of heroin to his wife. As the story unfolds the greedy narcotics agents and sadistic killers must be dealt with, innocent bystanders become caught up in the web of violence.

Flake of Snow by Edward Sagarin. Richard Herdrickson has a rare disease which causes him to age eight times faster than the average man. The story builds to a powerful climax as we see the effects of his illness on five different people.

Beginnings by Susanna Juliusburger. This enjoyable story written by a 17-year-old novelist presents the wild escapades of Sana, her brother, and a young Cockney in London as they explore the city together one summer.

Great Maria by Cecelia Holland. Set in 11th century Italy, 14-year-old Maria is married off to a shrewd young knight. Together they fight for power and unity in a politically divided country.

Santa's Workshop opens Dec. 8

For the third Christmas in a row, Santa Claus and all his elves will be coming to Wilmington.

This year the Recreation Department will hold its very successful Workshop program in the former Mildred Rogers School at Silver Lake.

All good little boys and girls who wish to come and see Santa and his elves busy at work should come to the Workshop on any of the following dates:

Wednesday, December 18 through Friday December 20 from 6:30 to 8:30 pm; plus, Saturday, December 21 and Sunday, December 22 from 1 pm to 5 pm.

Wilmington Rec Christmas pageant

Kevin Field, director of the Recreation Department's Children's Christmas Pageant, reports that rehearsals for this holiday extravaganza are progressing extremely well. Approximately 40 of Wilmington's theatrically minded youngsters have been rehearsing several skits, songs, and short plays since early November.

The Pageant will be presented to the public on Wednesday, December 11, at 7 pm at the North Intermediate School.
